

SOCIAL STUDIES JOURNAL

Volume XXII

Spring 1993

Guest Editors

Leo R. West
John Lerner
Richard Williams

Editor in Chief (On Sabbatical)
Jacob L. Susskind

Contents

Contributors.....	3
Editors' Note.....	5
Forward.....	6
Fred Kaltenstein Resources and Training To Better Teach American Labor History.....	7
Dave Lonich The Homestead Community As a Model for Comparison.....	13
Ann Dom Community Life Before, During and After the 1892 Strike.....	17
Saundra McKee Teaching Students to Think About Pennsylvania Labor, Industry and Ethnicity.....	20
Arlene Levy Who Owned the Homestead Plant in 1892.....	27
David Demarest Landscapes of Ethnicity and Class.....	30
Mona Eckley and Regina Tucker Railroads From A to Z.....	39

Carol Steele Helsley and Robert Agostino Clayton: An Elementary Teaching Unit, PART I The History	41
David Goodin, Larry Williams and Paul Wallace What Impact Might The Introduction Of A Major Industry Have On An Area	53
Jim Meighan, Vincent Receski, John Coffman, and Jim Klyap How Does A Community Band Together In Time Of Disaster?	56
Amy Morton, David Early and William J. Murray Tracing the Past with Primary Sources	61
Irwin Marcus The Deindustrialization of Pennsylvania in the 1970's and 1980's	64
Russell W. Gibbons America's Untold Story: Trade Union History	70

FOUNDED
PITTSBURGH
NOVEMBER 16, 1881

FOUNDED
PITTSBURGH
NOVEMBER 14, 1937

